Fourth Street Clinic helps homeless Utahns improve their health and quality of life by providing high-quality health care and support services. By increasing homeless Utahns’ access to primary care delivered in a coordinated clinical setting, Fourth Street Clinic is a major partner in promoting community health, ending homelessness and achieving across-the-board health care savings.

HISTORY
The mid-1980s brought a dramatic rise in Salt Lake City’s homeless population. During this time, Salt Lake City’s downtown was revitalized and several substandard, single-room occupancy hotels (SROs) that offered rooms for just a few dollars a night and required no leases were razed and redeveloped. In total, 800 low-income housing units were torn down, displacing 1,000 very poor residents from their homes and jobs. With no public plan to rapidly re-house or support these residents, homelessness moved from a sporadic, temporary experience to endemic and intergenerational.

To fill the service gap, nonprofits such as Fourth Street Clinic began to form. Founded in 1988, Fourth Street Clinic began as a triage clinic staffed with one, part-time nurse who relied heavily on hospitals for patient treatments.

Today, with a staff of 50 and a volunteer network of more than 150, Fourth Street Clinic is a comprehensive health care home that serves 3,747 homeless men, women and children with integrated primary care, behavioral health, pharmacy and specialty care services.
Fourth Street Clinic received HealthInsight’s 2012 Physician Office Quality Award as the first primary care clinic in Salt Lake, Tooele and Summit counties to meet quality improvement benchmarks for diabetes management. Diabetes is the top diagnosis among Fourth Street Clinic’s homeless patients and is among the most common, costly and preventable health problems in the United States (Centers for Disease Control and Prevention). Below are the percentages of Fourth Street Clinic’s diabetic patients who received the recommended screenings and achieved benchmarks for improved health over time.

Top Diagnoses

- Diabetes
- Tobacco Use
- Hypertension
- Depression
- Substance Abuse
- High Cholesterol
- Hepatitis C
- Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease (COPD)
- Obesity
- Hypothyroidism

Fourth Street Clinic’s medical teams also track several other leading health indicators to improve the delivery of care and overall patient health.

Screening Recommendations

1. Controlled Blood Pressure: BP <140/90mmHg (Data valid through Oct. 2012)
2. Annual Foot Exams: Exam to check for neuropathy (nerve damage)
3. Controlled Blood Sugar: HbA1c <8
4. Controlled LDL Cholesterol: LDL <100mg/dl
5. Annual Retinopathy Exams: Exam to check for eye abnormalities that can cause bleeding or blindness

Obese Patients with Weight Management Counseling
Women with Cervical Cancer Screenings
Smokers with Tobacco Use Intervention
HOME is an elusive concept for those living in extreme poverty and unstable housing. However, in 2012 Fourth Street Clinic created a “home” for homeless Utahns by adopting a Patient Centered Medical Home (PCMH) model where each patient regularly sees their own medical team who compassionately diagnoses and treats the underlying chronic diseases that so often trap people in poverty and homelessness.

Through providing a PCMH for patients, Fourth Street Clinic works to eliminate the fragmented care that does little to improve long-term health and drives up community health care costs. This comprehensive approach is effective in reducing the frequent 911 calls and emergency room visits that are the traditional treatment options for those living in extreme poverty. Providing appropriate care at the appropriate time and in the appropriate setting improves quality and contains costs.

By embracing a focus on quality, Fourth Street Clinic has seen an impact on patients’ lives. What PCMH means to patients like Sandy is that her medical provider talked with her about the high risks of her becoming diabetic. Sandy now understands how her medications and obesity affect her health, and she has decided to lower her risk by engaging in weight management and nutrition counseling. When Sandy finally moves out of the homeless shelter, she will leave with a whole new understanding of how to take care of herself.

Stories like this remind me that by keeping comprehensive, quality care core to our mission—our patients benefit, our health care systems benefit and our community benefits. I look forward to building upon a proven model that manages the root causes of homelessness and not just the symptoms.

Kristy Chambers, CEO

For the first time, homeless Utahns will have regular access to dental cleanings, education, instruction and assessments to save their teeth; acute and urgent care to relieve pain and infections; and restorative services to bring back smiles. The dental clinic brings an unprecedented opportunity to fully integrate dental and primary care—raising the health care standard for all of Utah.
